Wae
000 population of seven hundred. Some of the houses 342 are large, but most of them are simple. All ex-343 cept the barns are not built on piles. The roof 513 overhangs. It is made of alang-alang grass thatch. Beneath it is a small plated-walled in area where there is a large bench for sleeping. There is also a bale-bale [sleeping bench] under the roof and often in front too. Here sit the women while they work. If there are two families to a house, one sleeps on one end of the bench and the [417] other on the other. There is no partition. This 364 kampong is not fenced in as is Leloba, and the 231 pigs run all over. This is an illustration of 797 what the mission does. It keeps the kampong 872 clean. In Wailolong there is a school of three 346 grades with two teachers. There is also a chapel as in other kampongs. The church to which everyone here goes on Sunday is in Riangkamië, but since this was burned they go to one farther off.
[811] The people here seem to be more on the pagan 144 side, although the racial mixture is about the 142 same. It is notable how most of them are standard Negroid, but many, especially the women, are nearly white and Caucasoid. Many children have brown hair or hair which is partly brown.

[249] Cotton is grown locally and is pressed and 286 spun here. They spin thread on wheels as in Ende, 531 and also can spin with a spindle as they walk along. They weave on the regular horizontal back-bar loom. The colors of the woven cloth are blue and black mostly. The designs are even poorer than those in Ende. All is ikatted. And the [562] cloth is very heavy. Different designs are used for men and for women. They say that a cloth takes a year to make.

463 There are evidently no (or nearly no) crafts-411 men here, and everyone is a farmer. I see many men with spears, but have not yet seen a bow. A 304 few old people, it seems especially the women, have a little tattooing, and the guru says this

361 kampong, or rather two suku living there, one 614 living on the level of the road and the other 621 a bit down the hill to the rear. However, they are adjacent. The two suku are Naru and Lodo.
[211] At the road border of the kampong a bit in from the road, standing against the skyline, is a row of tall, roughly chiseled stone pillars looking like gigantic stone age scrapers or axe heads. They are thin and tall. They are set on a rectangular stone mound. Surrounding the
● [417] kampong is a raised stone border as is typical of all kampongs in this region, so that the kampong itself is located down in a stone wall enclosure.

246 Below the first row of stone pillars there 769 is another with just as many stones. It is also 531 set on a mound. Just below this stands the umbrella-like ndaru for male ancestors, and on one side there is a living tree with Y-branches at the fork. Stones are heaped around the ndaru and tree. The ndaru is about twelve feet high, and consists of a single pillar with thatched cap. The pillar is made of hebuh wood and is carved in fancy designs which are hard to make out. It also has eyes, a nose and a mouth (on another one, in Brova, the eyes were made of white shell). Looking under the cap I could see that the pillar forks were in the shape of a U, and so it is really about the same as the Nagoh peo, but less clearly Y-shaped and covered with a cap.

342 To either side of the plaza, which was of 361 earth, stood a line of houses, which were small and had rather low roofs. These houses are set on piles. On one side was the house of the 624 mori ndaru, who is also the kepala kampong.
769 The mori ndaru is the highest man, like the tuan
346 tanah, and he is the one who sets up the ndaru.
565 There can be more than one ndaru per kampong.
554 Evidently any bangsawan can give a feast in 574

632 Then we went to Soa, which is a kepala mere 361 district, with the kepala mere at Brova. It is 435 a complex of nearby kampongs set in a rich 433 plain. It is warm here, as it is in a valley.
Alfons says that this is the richest part of Ngada, with plenty of agriculture and lots of animals. (The lowest price of a horse here is
fl. 100.00 and for a buffalo fl. 80.00. The [262] lowest price for a dog, which is eaten as a great delicacy, is fl. 10.00. Prices go much higher.

We had to go off the road on a path over 361 which no car had gone for many years. We went 224 to the church of Mommersteeg, but he was not in.
The kampong nearby was Masu, but there are lots of others, making almost a metropolitan area.
All these people are Nageh, outlyers here in Ngada territory. These are the ones that have occasional big hunting rites, and they do a lot [237] of hunting. I note many jaws here, especially those of tusked wild pigs in addition to the deer horns. The only time the people here get 515 water on their bodies is when it rains and once 514 a year when all the kampongs in turn have the great deli feast, at which time men splash water on the women and vice versa.

346 In the center of these kampongs one sees 769 mostly the real forked and uncapped peo, but 778 some have the ndaru, perhaps taken over from the 532 Ngada. The peo is set on a stone mound. There are other stone mounds too. There are no watu lewa, the long pillars of the Ngada, however.
There are sacred trees here too. The peo are carved, and it was at Brova that I saw the fine shell eyes set in a peo.

342 We walked around this kampong and a few 624 others. They had stone enclosures and the 532 houses of the mosi ndaru (but a different name ● 417 is used here, I think). They also have the 000 carved wooden slabs, and the ata deo too. Every-

R Generally, I think that 632 the government has not put adat chiefs (for 622 example, ata nggaëh nua) into administrative 624 posts. This also holds for the mosa laki. I 693 can think of the following possible reasons:
631 (1) adat chiefs are largely illiterate and cannot do administrative work therefore; (2) adat chiefs are largely pagan, and the mission, therefore, probably does not like them (indeed, one of the main ends of the mission is to do away with that devil, the tuan tanah; they usually say they want to do this because he stands in the way of progress and land reform, but this is a rationalization; it is like killing the Toradja death feasts because of immorality, when the real reason is that they constitute the main bulwark of pagan survival); (3) adat chiefs formerly and potentially even today are probably the centers of possible revolt against alien laws and government, and thus it is better not to let them have too much power. So they let them handle harmless adat cases. This is indirect rule on the adat level, taking all important functions away from them. Nevertheless, I note that the ad-[565] ministrative appointees (who may be "elected" in a way) are always or nearly always of the adat chiefly families. Thus, here the kepala kampong is the younger brother of the ata nggaëh nua, and the kapitan is a noble of the adat lineage. They are literate and Christian (or Mohammedan) nobles of the old adat nobility.

Ngada and Nageh: The Ngada Y- or rather 231 U-topped upright, is used to run a buffalo rope
417 through. One end of the rope is attached to the neck of the buffalo and then passed through the U, and the other end is fastened to the stone post. Thus it is held taut when the buffalo is killed.

764 Ngada "resting places" along the road are 211 rectangular stone heap mounds, flat on top,
